PREFACE

Education is most important among all of us. Education plays a very important role in life. For living a luxurious life or for living a better life, one should be educated. Education is that which transforms a person to live a better life and even in a social well being. Education is the one that doing something constructive in our near future. It helps a person to show their best by their mind and spirit. It gives you a lot of knowledge in whatever aspects. Education plays a vital role in your success in the personal growth. The more you have knowledge the more you grow. Being educated and earning a professional degree prepares you to be a part in reputed organizations, companies or institutions. For determining what is good or what is bad for you, education will help you. A person who gets good education will become good citizen, more dependable worker. Without education a person is incomplete, so education makes man a right thinker and a correct decision – maker.

A sincere effort has been made to write a book containing School Education Act, Board of School Education Act, Statutes, Rules, Guidelines, Schemes framed by Government of India, Judicial Rulings etc. at one place so that the school authorities get equipped with all sort of information since all these notifications were in scattered form and now for the first time all these have been compiled at one place in proper and systematic way. It will prove to be a boon for the smooth running school's administration and will facilitate them.

PREFACE

The Constitution of India, in its Preamble and Fundamental Rights, has inscribed the right to life with egalite and social justice to every person who is a member of the grand collective. We, the People of India value the guaranteed right and paramount value. The authoritative interpretation by the Supreme Court of India which is final and binding on the country's institutions, holds that dignity and equality of status and opportunity are integral to the right to life and that education is a cardinal component of human dignity and, therefore, of the basic structure of the Constitution. It follows, as a fundamntal State obligation that each Indian, be his socio-economic status high or humble, has a just right to a fair level of education sans social, financial, regional, religious discrimination or purchasing power.

The book 'School Education Manual in Jammu & Kashmir' has no homogeneity nor common theme but is an odd miscellany containing Acts, Rules, Notifications, Schemes, Guidelines along-with important judgments etc. written with a radical purpose. Looking into retrospect, it reminds me of Winston Churchill;

"Writing a book is an adventure; to begin with it is a toy, then an amusement, then it becomes a mistress, and then it becomes a master, and then it becomes a tyrant, and the last phase is that just as you are about to be reconciled to your servitude you kill the monster and strew him about the public."

You may call my book not worth the pages for which you have paid, but at the end of the excursion you may not regret buying it because of the sincerity of thought, the lofty innovation aimed at and the ideology based on my experience having handled the litigation of Education Department in J&K High Court of Judicature. I am sure that the Book shall prove indispensably useful and serve the cause of legal fraternity, academicians, officers in the administration and all interested in the subject. Any suggestion which may be received from the distinguished patrons will be highly appreciated.
